HOW YOU CAN HELP

Fund a Project

Clean Compassion receives numerous requests each year to start up solar projects in developing nations (including Cambodia and Africa). With the proper resources, there is no limit to the number of jobs that can be created and the number of lives changed. All start up funds go towards purchasing solar lights, training, marketing, shipping and storage. A grant or donation from your business, service club or organization would provide the necessary planning, training and products needed to fund a project.

Donate

- $23,000 pays for the solar lights for a project. This buys 2000 solar lights.
- $8,000 pays for the shipping and taxes for 2000 solar lights.
- $3,000 pays a years storage charge for a container of solar lights.
- $8,000 would buy a much needed vehicle in Haiti.
- $50 provides two solar lights for a new team member to start with.

Clean Compassion is always looking for grant writers and solar technicians.

Saving Lives By Creating Jobs

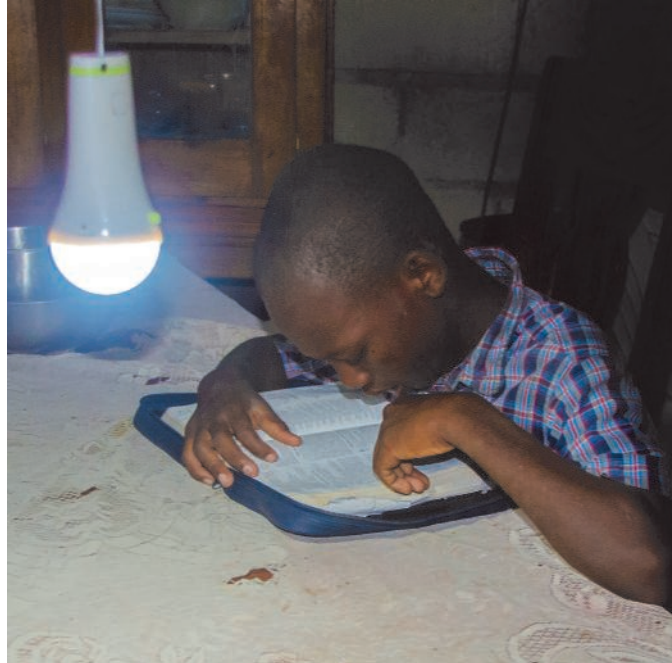

Everyday around the world, people are dying in poverty. No jobs, no food, no resources, no hope. Clean Compassion was founded to change those statistics by offering an opportunity to earn an income to those individuals who live in poverty.

An easy solution would be to get a better job, but in most developing countries, jobs are scarce or don't exist at all. Something as common as electricity is reserved for the most elite individuals in countries like Haiti. Families are living in darkness both physically and mentally. Clean Compassion provides these individuals hope by offering them solar products to sell through micro-finance.

Clean Compassion bridges the gap by providing environmentally friendly products as capital for people to sell.

25% of the world has no access to electricity
30% of the adult population are unemployed

Clean Compassion's mission is to create jobs and break the cycle of poverty using clean energy products.

Clean Compassion was founded on the principle that everyone deserves an opportunity for hope; Everyone deserves to live with light; Everyone deserves an opportunity to earn an income. By using clean energy products we save our environment and improve the health and welfare of the world's population.
